RATE BILL HAS A PREFERENCE

Bailey Begins Explaining His Remarks And Denying Statements In Papers.

TILLMAN FILES CHANDLER'S LETTER

Other Interesting Gossip At The Nation's Capital Regarding Matters Of Importance To Country At Large.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 16.—Senator Bailey today interrupted the discussion on the rate bill by rising to a question of personal privilege to make a spirited reply to the charge made in a Chicago paper yesterday and sent out by a Washington correspondent to the effect that Senator Bailey had been responsible for the failure of the agreement between the President and Senator Tillman and that Tillman had been suspicious of Bailey's attitude, and that Bailey was in opposition to the rate measure and that he was in constant conference with Senator Aldrich for the purpose of defeating the measure.

Makes Denial
After the statement had been read Senator Bailey said: "I denounce the publication as an unqualified, deliberate and malicious lie. I denounce the correspondent as an unqualified, deliberate and malicious liar. I denounce the man who inspired the statement as an unqualified, deliberate and malicious liar, whoever he may be or however high an office he holds."

Tillman's Attitude
Senator Tillman today received from former Senator William E. Chandler a statement of his course as intermediary in the negotiations between the President and Senators Tillman and Bailey on the railroad rate bill. The communication bears upon Lodge's denial for the President of Chandler's statement quoting the President as saying he has lost confidence in Foraker, Spooner and Knox.

Offered as Record
Senator Tillman offered the paper as a communication to the Senate and it will be printed as part of the congressional record. Ex-Senator Chandler says he will never again act as a missionary from the President to the Democratic party.

Janesville is soon to have a new industry, possibly an overall factory. It is to be located on the lower floor of the cotton mill between North River and North Franklin streets and H. M. Weber is said to be among those interested in the move. This afternoon, in answer to a few questions, he said: "I have nothing to say as yet for publication. Yes; there is going to be a factory and you have the location correct. As regards to what will be manufactured no announcement is to be made now. We might make overalls and might make bicycles. The people back of the new concern are not ready to give their names."

David B. Griffin Became Owner Of Valuable Animal This Morning.

The animal was sired by H. D. McKinney's "The Rex," son of "Rex America," which secured a record of 2:05. Almost two months before it arrived on the scene the new arrival, together with animals all over the United States, even as far as from California, is entered in the Horse Review Stake, number twelve, which is to be run off at Terre Haute, Ind., in 1908. All entries for this race were in before March of this year, it being one of the regulations that all animals be entered before being foaled.

THE FATE OF MANY A REFORMER

FRANCE PREPARING FOR A GERMAN WAR

Defences on Frontier Being Steadily Strengthened and Garrison Added to.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, May 16.—The latest issue of Reynolds's Newspaper says that information has been received from a reliable source to the effect that France is still steadily strengthening her defences along the German frontier. During the past twelve months or so many garrisons have been considerably added to, and in some cases almost doubled, while new guns of long range and the most modern construction have been installed in all the principal forts. So secretly has this been carried out that the vast majority of people in France have no idea of it, but the villagers along the frontiers tell strange stories of strong bodies of armed men marching silently at dead of night, all bound for unknown destinations. The French war office is well aware that in the archives of the German headquarters staff where are elaborate plans for the descent of great armies upon French soil at the moment war is declared, or even before, but it is by no means certain, concludes the correspondent, that they would have any compunction like the free and unimpeded passage that they believe would be the case.

Plans perfected by Mr. Burnham two years ago for making San Francisco a "city beautiful" will be discussed with the officials and business men of that city.

SOUTHERN NEGROES CAUSE RACE WAR AT ALBANY, N. Y.

State Militia Are Ordered Held In Readiness For Instant Service At The Scene.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Albany, N. Y., May 16.—A riot between Italians and negroes broke out in the brickyards at Coeymans, 12 miles south of here, today. Sheriff Pitts and his deputies and Lieut. Col. Davies of the Tenth regiment, went to Coeymans. The commanding officers of the local militia companies have been instructed to be in readiness for orders. One wounded negro was brought to an Albany hospital. The trouble grew out of the importation of southern negroes to take the place of striking Italians. Shortly before noon four companies of state militia belonging to this city and the Tenth regiment were ordered out for service at Coeymans.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 16.—The legislative committee, investigating the administration of the University of Wisconsin will visit and inspect various other state universities for the purpose of learning of the administrative methods in vogue here. Senator George Wylie, chairman of the committee, will inspect the state colleges of Iowa. Assemblyman Duncan, formerly president of the University of Wisconsin, will go to Ann Arbor to visit the University of Michigan. Assemblyman J. S. Donnell will go to the University of Illinois and Assemblyman Fred Peterson will go to Minneapolis to inspect the University of Minnesota. The object of the system of accounts the auditing can be done for $200.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
The manner of appointing regents or other governing officers of the institutions, the powers of the regents to mortgage state property and to apply state money, and other matters. Senator Wylie says the report of the investigation of the Wisconsin school will be ready not earlier than the first of November, when it is required to be handed to the governor. Expert Daniel, who examined the university accounts for the committee, has reported that the bookkeeping system is complicated and conglomerated, and that the system of auditing is costly and unsatisfactory. The expert says that it costs the state $2,100 to audit the books for a year, most of which money is paid as side salaries to school of commerce professors; but with a modern and plain University of Minnesota. The object of the system of accounts the auditing can be done for $200.

GENERAL ASSEMBLIES OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Des Moines, Ia., May 16.—Nearly all the commissioners to the Presbyterian General Assembly, which convenes in the Central Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, are in the city. Every arrangement for the comfort of the 700 commissioners and the many other visitors has been completed, and the spacious auditorium of the church is ready for the moderator to call the gathering to order and deliver the opening sermon.

The canvass made today by the supporters of the various candidates for moderator has been active, though good natured, and the ranks of those willing to accept the honor have been added to. Among those whose names are mentioned for the place are Rev. G. M. James McClure, D. D., president of McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago; Rev. Robert McKenzie, D. D., of New York, formerly of San Francisco; Rev. Robert F. Carson, D. D., of Brooklyn; Rev. William Henry Roberts, of Philadelphia; stated clerk of the Presbyterian General Assembly; Rev. Dr. Alexander B. Marshall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Minneapolis; Rev. Dr. John F. Hendy, of Kansas City; and Rev. Dr. Hunter Corbett, the famous missionary of China. The leading candidates, however, are the first three mentioned. Of these Dr. McClure is regarded as the leading candidate of the western element, while the claims of Drs. McKenzie and Carson are being pushed by Eastern Presbyterians.

In addition to the election of a moderator there is much other business of importance to occupy the present session of the General Assembly. The final steps in the union of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the older body are to be taken, and there seems no doubt that the union will be consummated, despite the opposition that has arisen in some quarters.

The commissioners will be shown completed copies of the new Presbyterian ritual, the Book of Common Worship, which was adopted in part by the last assembly, for voluntary use in the churches. Permission was then given to complete and publish the book. This has been done by the committee and the board of publication. There is yet some opinion that the "Presbyterian Prayer Book" is still an open question, and that it may meet disapproval. General opinion is that the assembly will approve the work.

A young people's secretary for the board of publication and Sabbath school work is to be placed in the field if the approval of the assembly can be secured. Another important matter to be acted upon will be the report of Rev. John Clark Hill of Springfield, O., in which the plan will be favored of uniting the young men's organization of the church into a central body, not unlike the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in the Episcopal church.

Cumberland Presbyterians.
Decatur, Ill., May 16.—The annual session of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church will convene in this city tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Many delegates arrived last night and today. The session promises to be the most important in the history of the assembly, especially in view of the efforts that probably will be made by the "loyalists" to prevent the consummation of the plan to unite the Cumberland Presbyterian Church with the parent body.

Assembly Meets Tomorrow.
Greenville, S. C., May 16.—The forty-fifth General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterians, known officially as the Presbyterian church in the United States, will meet in Greenville tomorrow. A majority of those who are to take part have already arrived in the city. The assembly is the governing body of the Presbyterian Church in the South. Its work is managed chiefly through executive committees, which are elected each year. These various committees and boards are as follows: Executive committee of foreign missions, executive committee of home missions, executive committee of education, executive committee of publications, executive committee of colored evangelization, executive committee of ministerial relief, trustees of the assembly, American Bible Society, permanent committee on Sabbath and superintendent of Sabbath schools. This year the opening sermon will be preached by the retiring moderator, Rev. J. T. Plunket, D. D., of Augusta, Ga. Considerable business will come over from the last assembly. The question of union with one or more of the other branches of the Presbyterian church will again receive attention.

Big Firemen's Tournament.
Rome, Ga., May 16.—Rome presented a gala appearance today in honor of the opening of the annual tournament of the North Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee Firemen's association. Numerous handsome arches welcomed the firefighters. The three days of the tournament will be taken up chiefly with races and other contests for which large prizes have been offered.

Y. W. C. A. Conference At Paris.
Paris, May 16.—The third conference of the World's Young Women's Christian association opened in this city today with a large attendance of delegates, many of whom had journeyed from distant parts of the world to witness or participate in the proceedings. The sessions will last five days.

GOOD ROAD PROBLEM
IS EASILY SOLVED

From an Economical Point of View
Good Roads Are a Necessity to a City.

Good roads will not only improve a city but also a rural district. In a recent issue of Suburban Life the subject is discussed at length and the benefits derived from good country roads to the residents and users of these roads is clearly explained. Communities are judged by the roads that surround them. In the more densely populated states in the east the roads are of importance and are well kept and good for use all the year round.
In interest of good roads the country throughout Suburban Life suggests a new method of road dragging known as the "split-log drag." The directions for its use are very simple. Atter each rain or wet spell, when the road is beginning to dry, the drag is hauled over it, up one wheel track and down another, at an angle of forty-five degrees, which tends to move the dirt toward the center of the road and at the same time fills the ruts and hollows. By the continued use of the drag at the proper time the results secured are astonishing when the simplicity and even rudeness of the implement is considered, and the cost is very low. Such a drag can be made for seventy-five cents to two dollars and a half and will last a long time. The number of times the road will have to be dragged during the year will vary according to the traffic and rainfall, but perhaps an average of once a month would be all that would be necessary for most roads adjacent to Janesville. The split-log is a huge log or beam with a staple attached far enough from one end so that it would have a sideways motion when pulled by a team of horses.
Up one side and down another this simple contrivance can be hauled with ease and do very effective work. Each time the drag is used after a rain, when the material is damp, a thin layer of earth is spread over the hollows that become packed down solid when the horses and wagons pass over it, forming an almost water-proof layer. Little by little the crown of the road is built up of successive layers until a covering of considerable thickness is obtained that is not easily affected by water or frost. The project is worth considering and should be a success if kept up. If each farmer would take pride in the road directly in front of his property it would be a simple matter and the merchants of Janesville could well encourage such a movement.

CASE OF BIRDS
AT THE LIBRARY

COLLECTION OF STUFFED SPECI-MENS STARTED.

SKAVLEM TO LOAN EXHIBIT

His Assemblage of Feathered Friends Attracted Attention 'From All' Over Wisconsin.

Halvor L. Skavlem has offered to permanently leave a portion of his large collection of stuffed birds at the Janesville Public Library provided a case to guard against damage by dust and atmosphere be furnished.
The library board has accepted and arrangements for the building of a case as needed have been made. This will be located in the children's room where the entire Skavlem collection has been and is still being exhibited.
This loan collection of birds will form the nucleus and foundation for what will probably grow to be one of the finest assemblages of its kind in the country. It is not necessary that specimens be donated outright but may be loaned.

Attracted Much Attention.
The exhibition of the birds attracted much attention. Hundreds of people from Rock county visited the library for the express purpose of seeing these and nearly an evening has passed since the librarians have not been compelled to light up the children's room in order that some who were unable to come during the day might be accommodated. News of the exhibition spread throughout the state and both the libraries at Whitewater and Eau Claire asked if it would not be possible to ship the collection for a few weeks' display in those cities. These requests had to be rejected because of the impossibility of packing the specimens in a manner that would insure their safety.

MORE BAD BONDS IN BIG UTILITY DEAL

Broker Rich May Have Placed Over Two Hundred Thousand Dollars' Worth.

Additional worthless bonds alleged to have been floated in various cities of the country by A. L. Rich, the broker who negotiated the combine of the public service companies in Beloit, are still being reported to his former partner, Phil S. Briggs, according to advices received today. It is now known that Briggs has redeemed over $100,000 worth of the bad paper, and the exact figure is said to be $105,000. In addition to this amount of worthless bonds located, it is said that Briggs has partial reports which indicate that there is nearly $95,000 still outstanding, or double the amount supposed to have been floated when Briggs was in Beloite on Saturday last. It is understood there that Briggs is taking up all of the worthless bonds offered through the local banks in order to prevent the learning of the exact amount, as would easily be possible if the transactions were made through the Cincinnati clearing house.

Still Searching
It was also learned today that the Cincinnati detectives have apparently been deceived as to the course taken by Rich in his flight. It was announced on Saturday that the authorities had every reason to believe that Rich had fled to Honolulu, and although it was then said that there was no possibility of capturing him there for legal reasons, it is now known that Cincinnati detectives had intended to have Rich arrested there on his arrival from San Francisco.
They announced that they had given up the chase in order to mislead Rich.

Not in Honolulu
After a Cincinnati officer, however, had gone to the Pacific coast and learned that there had been no steamer sailing for the Sandwich islands since Rich was last seen in America, it was learned that Rich had connections in the Bermudas, and he is now being looked for there.

Take Up Bonds
The fact that Briggs has taken up all of the worthless bonds offered is evidence that he has determined not to allow his business reputation to be sullied by his partner's misdeeds.
It is said here that Briggs stands ready to take up all of the $200,000 in bad paper thus far located, and he thinks the sum will not be much larger. He has decided, however, not to make public now or in the future the names of the banks victimized.
Whether or not he has taken over the bonds at their face value is not known definitely.

States Geological Survey, has sent out circular letters through which he expects to obtain important scientific data concerning the recent earthquake in San Francisco.

It may not be generally known that a few hundred dollars are devoted each year by the Survey to the collection of records concerning earthquakes. No very active seismological investigation has ever been made by this bureau, but a small allotment is granted Professor Reid, which enables him to correspond with observers all over the country and procure data recorded on seismographs at many different points. Reports of his investigation are published from time to time, in the Weather Review, the official organ of the Weather Bureau.

It is interesting to note that Professor Reid was appointed by the State Department, as delegate from the United States to the International Seismological Conference held in Strasbourg, Germany, from July 24 to 28, 1905. Delegates were present by invitation of the German Government from 19 countries, and an international association was then formed for cooperative investigation of earthquake phenomena. The constitution adopted provides for a general assembly to meet at least once in four years and a permanent commission, composed of one delegate from each nation, which will direct the work of the association. A central bureau is located at Strasbourg in connection with the Imperial Seismo-logical Station there, and reports are forwarded to its director and are published from time to time.

The association was joined by many countries but the United States has not yet signified its intention of becoming a member. The permanent commission or executive committee of the association was organized in Berlin last summer. Professor Reid was present at that meeting also.
After his return he recommended, as he did after his return from the Strasbourg conference, that the United States joined the association.

The director of the Geological Survey has recommended in a letter to the Secretary of the Interior, that the United States accept the invitation of the German government to join the International Seismological Association, provided that congress shall see fit to make the necessary appropriation.
The total sum that congress is called on to appropriate annually is $1300, which includes $300, the fee that the United States would be required to contribute to the Association and $500 for the expenses of the delegate.

It is not likely that a delegate from the United States will ever have anything more important or more disastrous to report than the records of the earthquake which devastated the metropolis of the Pacific coast.

A TRIP TO EGYPT
VIA MYERS' THEATRE

Musical Farce Was Greeted by a Good-Sized Assemblage Here
Last Evening.

"A Trip to Egypt" by C. Herbert Kerr, the man who pleaded guilty to the charge of writing "The Beauty Doctor," was presented for the second time in Janesville before a good-sized audience at the Myers theatre last evening. Since seen here last season the two comedians have been converted or subverted from German to Hebrew characters and the chorus of fair girls with fair voices has disappeared. Though bluster and bellow was too prevalent the situations were ludicrous and "gags" were sprung at a rapid rate. Howls of laughter were brought forth and the singing of Phoebe Cardownie and Boyd Gilmour elicited applause. En-cores to the humorous musical selections of Trayner and Phillips were demanded.

STILL TIME TO HAVE
PICTURE IN CONTEST

Interest in the Affairs Increases Day by Day—Pictures Being Taken.

The Gazette contest for bad roads and bad sidewalks is becoming hotter and hotter. Today several amateurs are out taking snapshots for the contest and the results promise to be surprising. There are so many bad walks and bad strips of road in the city that to enumerate them all would be a task. It is expected the contest will only take in the worst.
Bad walks exist in the downtown district and several of these have been taken to advantage and will probably be reproduced so that everyone who reads the Gazette can see just what condition the streets are in. The first prize is two dollars, the next three one dollar each. The pictures and fifty-word essays should be in the hands of the "Good Roads Editor" by May 23.

GUARANTEED LIQUOR CURE
We would not under any circum-all it claimed. Orrine is the only

NEWSBOYS WITNESS

Twenty-five Members of Advancement Association Attended Entertainment at Y. M. C. A.

Twenty-five members of the Newsboys' Advancement Association, composed at the present time of the young men who handle the circulation of the Daily Gazette, attended in a body the moving-picture show at the Y. M. C. A. building last evening.
Tickets for the entertainment were provided by the newspaper management. The first ten rows in the auditorium were occupied by boys, a large percentage of whom raised a din of whistling, cat calls, and howls whenever there was a lull in the proceedings—which happened frequently.
The young men of the N. A. A., part of their credit, took no part in these noisy demonstrations, limiting their applause to hand-clapping and conducting themselves with that decent consideration for others which betokens the real gentleman.

A number of the films presenting the scenes from the Passion Play at Oberammergau, Joseph Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle," and the loomo-tively head-on collision, were excellent, but there were others which seemed incomplete and disappointing.

But to return to the Newsboys' Association—the interest manifested in this organization has been a source of gratified surprise to those who have interested themselves in it. The attendance at the semi-monthly meetings at the I. O. G. T. hall is excellent and the dues of 10 cents are paid with greater promptness and the business conducted with more celerity than in many organizations of much older men. There is a piano in the hall and during the social sessions musical selections, games, short talks on circulation, and refreshments provide the evening's entertainment. The last regular meeting and supper is to be held a week from next Saturday night, but a picnic with athletic contests and other features is planned for some date about the first of June.

Since the organization of the Association more interest has been shown in the work and there have been fewer complaints on delivery. The institution promises to be of great mutual benefit both to the Gazette and its subscribers and the newsboys. Ben Eller is president, George Cronin, vice-president, and Frank Biddler, treasurer. The advisory committee is composed of Harold Green, circulation manager, Edward Little, assistant,

of the members believing that the proposed improvements mean unnecessary expense.

There are some questions along the line of saving that are false economy. The streets of Janesville furnish an object lesson along this line. The pest house is nothing more nor less than an emergency small pox hospital. It should be put in condition and kept in condition to properly care for the unfortunate patients who suffer from this loathsome disease.

The place has been treated more or less as a joke and laughing stock ever since it was established and it has been no credit to the city. If Janesville is to have an emergency hospital there is no reason why it should not be well equipped and properly maintained.

IS LA FOLLETTE A REPUBLICAN?

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin has been for years constantly veering away from the recognized principles and policy of the party to which he assumes to belong and more and more identifying himself with the so-called inclined malcontents of the democratic party, to the leadership of whom William Randolph Hearst aspires.

So zealous an advocate of the fads and fancies of these visionaries as the degenerated litterateur Julian Hawthorne has proclaimed that he can discern no virtue or good sense in all that has been said in congress during the pending memorable consideration of the railroad rate bill, save in something that was offered by Hearst and the flamboyant declamation by La Follette.

If any one ever doubted the Wisconsin senator's affiliations, the doubt must be dispelled by the record of his voting on sundry proposed amendments to the rate bill in the senate on Friday last. On several of these the votes of the republican senators, or of every one of those who claim to be republicans, were cast solidly together, with the one exception of La Follette, who voted every time, without exception, with the democratic senators.

Even on two or three occasions, when one or two of the democratic senators, for stated, specific reasons, broke away from their party and voted with the republicans, Mr. La Follette stuck to his new allies and voted with the democratic opposition for any and every radical measure which irresponsibility might suggest.

While La Follette was thus fraternizing with democrats in Washington his supporters at home were demanding of candidates for the state legislature, in return for La Follette support, written pledges that if elected they will oppose and vote against the reelection to the senate of John C. Spooner, the present senior senator from Wisconsin. Mr. Spooner is a republican and it is but a plain statement of fact to say that no other public man in the United States is held in higher regard for statesmanship, for wide and deep legal and political learning or for high personal and political character. No senator has reflected more honor on his state from every point of view and none is more distinguished for devotion to sound, statesmanlike conservative republican principles and practice.

Yet this republican, one of the foremost of the senators from all the states, Mr. La Follette and his friends are openly and covertly plotting and intriguing to defeat.

Clearly La Follette's pretense to republicanism is as impudent as it is hollow. He belongs to Hearst and Bryan.—Chicago Chronicle.

The question propounded by the Chronicle is engaging the thoughtful attention of a good many republicans in the state, which the new senator represents. Fraternizing with democrats at home was not considered an unpardonable sin, but the course pursued by the senator, since he became a member of the upper House is not so easily explained.

The republican senators, largely in majority, represent the best there is of republicanism. They espouse the same principles and vote as a unit on all questions where these principles are involved. It is an unusual thing for a member to attempt to reform the dominant element in the senate, and more unusual for a man who fails in the effort to bolt his party and line up with democratic opposition.

But this is what the new senator from Wisconsin has done. He succeeded in La Follette's rebelling the republican party in his own state, and he has an ambition to revolutionize the national party and become the new leader.

Mr. Bryan possessed a similar ambition some years ago and he succeeded in wrecking the democratic party beyond recognition. It remains to be seen whether La Follette will be as successful in his attempt to establish a new party.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Georgia democrats have decided to hold their state primaries August 23 and the state convention at Macon, September 4.

Candidates for the United States Senate in Kentucky have asked the democratic state executive committee to order a direct primary for the purpose of giving the voters an opportunity to express a preference as between aspirants.

Col. John H. Bankhead, who was defeated in the congressional primary by Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, is the oldest democratic member of the House in point of continuous service. Col. Bankhead is now serving his tenth term, and has been in public life in Alabama for forty years, his first public office being that of member of the legislature in 1865.

Jonathan Bourne, the choice of the Oregon republicans, for the United States Senate, is a Massachusetts man by birth. He is a son of the man of the same name who founded the great cotton mills near Fall River, and for whom the town of Bourne was named.

Edward Rosewater, who has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for United States Senator in Nebraska, has long been prominent as the founder and editor of the Omaha Bee. He was born in Bohemia and came to the United States in early youth. He began his career as a telegraph operator, but soon drifted into journalism.

The states that elect governors this year, with the names of the retiring executives, are: Alabama, W. D. Jelks, D.; Arkansas, Jefferson Davis, R.; California, G. C. Pardee, D.; Colorado, Henry Roberts, R.; Connecticut, F. M. McDonald, R.; Georgia, J. M. Terrell, D.; Idaho, F. R. Gooding, R.; Iowa, A. B. Cummins, R.; Kansas, E. W. Hoch, R.; Kentucky, J. W. C. Why Tillman Boom Halted.

Fond du Lac Bulletin: That talk about Senator Ben Tillman for president came to a sudden halt right away after the senator made his wholesale assault upon the courts of the country. No very large part of the people of the United States want any man for president who has a record for belittling and for accusing the courts of corruption.

Skinn's Epitaph.

Exchange: "Such an amendment," said Senator Tillman during a debate, "would destroy the bill's meaning as the meaning of the epitaph on old John Skinn's tombstone was destroyed. An amendment was taken to John Skinn's epitaph. It consisted of one word—the word 'friend.' It was put on in the dead of night. The epitaph previous to the amendment read: 'He died his best.'"

Cincinnati's Jealousy.

Oshkosh Northwestern: It is not necessary to stigmatize Porker as a "railroad senator" to account for his dislike to the rate bill. He represents a whole world of Cincinnati jealousy over the fact that New York can ship and sell goods in her territory as cheaply as she can, and a fear that in readjustment conditions may be shaken up so that New York will have still more advantage.

Carl Schurz.

Milwaukee News: He was not distinguished as a soldier or as a statesman. There were scores of major generals that ranked higher as military men and the senate was full of men that were his equal. It was as a citizen when defying party associations and boldly proclaiming his views; and with keen incisive logic giving reason for the fact that was in him that he towered high above his contemporaries.

Saloons Four Thousand Fewer.

Chicago Chronicle: Inasmuch as 4,000 of the saloon keepers refuse to take out licenses at the price of $1,000, it is clear that there will be no money to authorize the increase in the police force. In view of this fact, how does it look that Mayor Dumm swooped down on this money before it was paid and got $35,000 of it appropriated for his contingent fund, which means for the deletion of Walter L. Fisher? This may be one reason why the reign of crime continues.

Why Savor is Probably Improved.

Exchange: Mark Twain's famous sketch, "How I Became Editor of an Agricultural Paper," has been dramatized for a Paris theatre. The adapter and translator, M. Timmory, is credited by a critic with "having succeeded in transferring to the stage Mark Twain's humor without losing its savor." Persons familiar with Mr. Clemens's story, "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras," with its French translation and a literal translation into English by the author will be surprised. The French version of "The Jumping Frog" and Twain's retranslation are probably funnier than the humorist ever wrote for publication. In the dramatic version just produced in Paris the English title is retained in the bills, but the French people unfamiliar with English have named the play "Le Cultivateur de Chicago."

Clubbing For Peace.

Milwaukee Journal: The salutation of the Dowdites, "Peace be with you," seems to have been operative on Sunday, after the Irish fashion, "Wild shucks."

Can It Be?

Winnebago Local: The Milwaukee Free Press man editorially asks "what are pants? Gee, whiz. Can it be possible that he don't use them?"

The Wise Will Wait.

Chicago Tribune: The prudent suburbanite with a patch of garden in his back yard will wait a few days, notwithstanding, before setting out his tomato plants.

Girl in White the Sweetest.

Madison Democrat: The red girl and the pink girl will have a struggle for supremacy this summer; but the girl in white will still be the sweetest thing in town.

Beveridge's Fervent Wish.

El Paso Herald: Senator Beveridge really wishes unkind commentators would forget that flamboyant look of his about "The Russian Advance"—it knocked his reputation as a prophet higher than a kite.

May Own Its Own Streets.

Chicago Tribune: The contention that Chicago owns its own streets has received the formal endorsement of the United States Supreme court, and the belief is general that the traction companies will not try to carry the case any higher up.

First Open-work on Record.

Houston Chronicle: "Adam," said Mother Eve, "I wish you would put a few cut worms on my favorite fig tree." "What, and have all the nice leaves bored full of holes?" "Certainly, I wish to make an openwork shirt-waist."

Only Frenzied Bok.

Atlanta Journal: "Frenzied finance is where a man makes a $1,000-a-year income keep a $2,500-a-year family," says Puck. "Nonsense! That isn't frenzied finance but frenzied journalism of the Edward W. Bok-in-the-Ladies Home Journal kind."

On Performing the Exhaust.

Evening Wisconsin: A French inventor who has discovered how automobile gasoline can be performed may have chanced upon a cure of the "scorching" habit. Under present conditions automobiles are inclined to race away from the smell of the exhaust vapor.

Too Widely Diffused.

Milwaukee Journal: According to recent reports neither Wisconsin senator is in rapport with the White House. They are at odds with one another and La Follette seems to be voting with Ben Tillman and Sandy Chandler. Wisconsin's influence is getting almost too widely diffused.

Perils of Texas Sea Bathing.

Alice (Texas) Echo: "The season for sea bathing opened up at Corpus Christi sooner than any one thought, and it is hoped our sea bathing suits will not do likewise."—Corpus Crony. Won't worry over such possibilities. Few of the real summer girls would mind a trifle like that.

Red Cloud.

Exchange: Red Cloud, the famous Sioux chief, hero of a hundred battles, is now 86 years old and appears to be in good physical condition excepting his poor eyesight and impaired hearing. He is nearly blind, but he has not given up hope that he again will be able to see well. With his optimistic spirit and ability to use his limbs he appears likely to live a number of years longer.

Why Tillman Boom Halted.

Democratic Claw Neatly Concealed.

Madison Democrat: Who's preventing—President Roosevelt, or Senator Tillman with ex-Senator Chandler at his back? The senator declares that certain statements were made by the President, and from the White House quickly comes the answering shout: "You're another!"

It must be altogether embarrassing, this strange difference of view. But, really, no one can believe that either is jollyfying. A serious misunderstanding exists.

That is all.

President Roosevelt may change his opinion, like any intelligent and brave man, but as to lying—Never!

Nor can one, even for a moment, credit the fiery South Carolinian with partnership in a fabrication. His very violence is a measurable safeguard against designed fraud in statement.

No.

There's a mistake, an extraordinary mistake—a confiding people are plump up against a disillusion as to men's integrity which must forsooth bring even more of sorrow than of surprise.

Allen Smith, 51 years of age, a prominent farmer living near Akron, O., committed suicide by shooting. Smith's fortune is estimated at $100,000. The cause for the suicide is not known.

She said to a friend whom she met yesterday and with whom she had a little conversation regarding dentistry and dentists:

"I can hardly believe it true that my teeth are out WITHOUT MY BEING HURT."

"I am so glad I went to DR. RICHARDS."

"Some of my friends and neighbors had been at me for a long time to go to him, but I dreaded it so much."

"I shall surely recommend him to all my friends, for he hurt me the least of any dentist I ever had work for me."

An Ancient Bug.

Housekeepers who detect cockroaches will be interested to know that they are a very ancient family and could give Adam and Eve points in genealogy. Dr. E. H. Sellards, of the University of Florida, discussing "The Geological History of Cockroaches," in the Popular Science Monthly, finds the structural characteristics of the roach pretty much the same to-day as in the carboniferous period when it was most abundant and had its largest development.

Not to Be Deceived.

Boys, business men of your town know you better than your parents. There eyes are on you when you are least aware. You may slip away from your mother, you may dupe and deceive your best friends, you may elude the watchful eye of your teacher, you may trifle with the confidence of your Sunday school superintendent, but you can't fool the business men in your town when they have a position to be filled.—Kansas City Journal.

Noted Frenchman.

There has just passed away in the person of M. Desprecher one of the pioneers of France in ocean cables. M. Desprecher collaborated with Sir John Pender, Cyrus W. Field, George Eliott and others in laying the first cables between Europe and America. He was one of the promoters of the Corsican cable, which was laid in 1861. In 1894 he bought the island of Antioch, which now belongs to M. Menier. He has reached the age of 82.

First Woman Voter.

Beatrice Sacchi, a professor at Mantua and the holder of a doctor's degree, is the first woman to vote in Italy. It seems that there is no law there to prevent a woman from voting. Miss Sacchi discovered this and went to the polls and voted.

MANY AUTO'S IN JANESVILLE NOW

LIST OF ENTHUSIASTS IS STEADILY INCREASING.

ACCIDENTS ARE ABSENT

New Names Are Continually Being Added to the List of Local Owners—Present Total is 27.

Janesville is now fast becoming an automobile city. Since Nineteen-two when Frank Blodgett owned the first and for a time the only machine in the city, the number has been gradually increasing until now Janesville has its garage and expert automobile mechanics who are constantly busy. This spring has seen the greatest impetus to the sport and many new motorists are struggling with the first symptoms of the fever and all its mishaps and pleasures. Even the horses have become accustomed to the "choo-choo" wagons, and no longer stand on their hind legs and paw the air as they did when Mr. Blodgett and his Oldsmobile first appeared.

Many Visitors

Janesville is well located as a stopping place for motorists and last autumn many arrived here on trips to and from Chicago and points further north. An autoist thinks nothing of a forty or fifty-mile spin and Janesville cars will doubtless be seen on Madison, Beloit and Rockford streets frequently during the coming summer. There is one thing, however, that the autoists are earnestly working for. That is better roads, better roads both in the city and in the adjacent country. With this the business men are in sympathy; as it means more trade centering in Janesville. One more thing the autoists would like impressed upon parents of children and that is to warn them not to allow their offspring to stand in the middle of the road and apparently wait for the auto to hit them and jump out of the way just in time to escape being struck. The auto-owners claim this is not only wearing on their nerves, but also exceedingly dangerous practice, as they can not tell which way "Young America" is going to jump.

Few Accidents

After rapping on wood to insure good luck it is with pleasure that it can be said that thus far there have been no bad accidents in Janesville from the autos. One machine collided with a stone wagon, slightly injuring the occupants of the car and damaging the machine, but the stone wagon was unhurt. Of course, there have been fender incidents connected with the new sport of Janesville. For instance, when a new owner yells "Whoa" at his machine in front of the city hospital when it unceremoniously backed into the curb against his wishes, or when two owners of similar cars traded without knowing it and did not find out their mistake until several hours later. Stopping in the middle of the bridge for lack of gasoline and other trifling accidents are expected and met by every auto-owner with a laugh.

Twenty-seven Machines

There are twenty-seven automobiles owned in Janesville from the little three-wheeled Crescent of Dr. George Field to the big Winton touring cars of Dave Jeffris, Norman Carle and Arthur Harris. Thus far the Cadillac appears to be the most numerous. Janesville also has an automobile of no mean proportions. Dr. Edden, President, A. G. Anderson, secretary and Frank Blodgett, secretary and treasurer. No racing is more of a social and instructive order than anything else. Like every horseman or hunter, every auto-owner is fond of recounting his accidents and how he overcame them or hired a poor old horse to haul his machine back to town. Automobileing is like fishing—it helps the imagination wonderfully.

The Machines

Among the auto-owners and their machines are the following: A. M. Valentine, Rambler; E. D. Kemmerer, Frank Blodgett, Dave Holmes, Sam Echlin, Dr. R. R. Powell, Richard Barlow, Cadillac; Mr. Locke, White; Steamer; Bert Grifley, Pope; Tribune; Dr. George Field, Crescent; D. K. Jeffris, Norman Carle, Arthur Harris, Wintons; Arthur Jones, Dr. Dudley, Rambler; Dr. Edden, Chaffin; Hutchinson, Moline; Dr. Chaffin, Mitchell; A. G. Anderson, Rambler; E. T. Brown, Yale; E. G. S. Garage, Winton; and Maxwell, George S. Parker, Maxwell; George George, Packard; and F. Gower, a Pierce.

LOCAL LAGONICS

For Big Legal Cases: Judge B. F. Dunwiddie, Court Reporter Francis Grant and Attorneys M. G. Jeffris and Malcolm Mount want to Monroe this morning, when an important legal case is being contested before the first named this afternoon.

Golf Directors Meeting: Directors of the Mississippi Golf Club will meet this evening at the office of M. G. Jeffris. The project of purchasing a motor to pump water for the club house when the windmill isn't working, and other important matters will be considered.

Station Certificate: A certificate for "Don Pedro," a Chestnut grade trotter owned by A. C. Goodnough of Evansville, has been filed with the register of deeds.

Bad Language: There are several different kinds of bad language. That used by chefs and waiters of hotels on their menus is one of the worst. They are ignorantly ignorant of the harm in it. The average menu contains usually at least a brace of orthographic howlers.—Vanity Fair.

Nature's Explanation: Miss Rosenstern—He says his love for me is a burning passion. Mother, but most lovers grow thin, vile he keeps growing fatter.

Her Mother—Well, perhaps he is expanding with heat.—Puck.

HOLD TREASURER FOR THE THEFT

W. T. SPAITH GAVE SHOW "A RUN FOR THEIR MONEY."

IS KNOWN IN JANESVILLE

Was Here Two Years Ago With A Theatrical Production—Charge Is Serious.

Telegraphic dispatches announce that William T. Spait, auditor of the Cast Hagenbeck circus, has been arrested in Cleveland, Ohio for the robbery of the ticket wagon of the Forpaugh-Sells circus in 1904, while he was treasurer of that show. Thirty thousand dollars was stolen at this time. Mr. Spait is well known in Janesville, having been here in the winter of nineteen three and four with a theatrical show known as "A Run For Her Money." Those who attended the performance remember the "run for the money" they made at the box office when the sixteen odd admissions were found to constitute the audience of the attraction. Mr. Spait held the same position with the Forpaugh-Sells show that David Watt did for so many years with the old Forpaugh show.

Story Of Wagon Guards.

The robbery, according to the story told by the ticket wagon guards at the time, took place just after the wagon had been taken from the train which had hauled it to Tarboro from Greenville, N. C., and in the presence of hundreds of people who had gathered on the circus grounds to watch the unloading of the show and the erection of the tents. The guards said they were set upon by several loungers who had been seen about the grounds, and were overpowered and gagged before they could make an outcry. The thieves then looted the wagon and fled.

Tarboro Police Suspected Employees

The chief of police of Tarboro though the job was done by circus employees while the train was enroute for Greenville. The fact that nobody in the assembled crowd suspected that anything unusual had happened until the guards told their story seemed to tend to support his theory. Several employees were searched, but nothing incriminating was found on them.

A large amount of money was secured as the receipts had been retained in the wagon for some time in anticipation of the heavy demands of pay day.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO BUSINESS PEOPLE.

The Brethren

By RIDER HAGGARD,

Author of "She," "King Solomon's Mines," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903-1904, BY RIDER HAGGARD

"I hoped," said Sinan to Masouda, "that they had the place, and it was for this reason, woman, that I followed you to lead these knights higher after you had reported of them and their quest to me from Beirut. It is not well that there should be two holy signs in the world, and he who went before me when he lay dying, charged me to recover his life that were possible. Let them go back to their own land and return to me with the ancient ring, and I will help them."

Masouda translated the last sentence only, and again the brethren shook their heads. This time it was Godwin who spoke.

"Our land is far away, O lord, and where shall we find this long lost ring? Let not our journey be in vain. O mighty one, give us justice, against Salah-ed-din."

"All my years have I sought justice on Salah-ed-din," answered Sinan, "and yet he prevails against me. Now I make you an offer. Go, Franks, and bring me his head, or at least put him to death as I shall show you how, and we will talk again."

When they heard this, saying Wulf said to Godwin in English:

"I think that we had best go. I do not like this company." But Godwin made no answer.

As they stood silent thus, not knowing what to say, a man entered through the door and, throwing himself on his hands and knees, crawled toward the cushion through the double line of counselors, or dais.

"Your report?" said Sinan in Arabic.

"Lord," answered the man, "I acquaint you that your will has been done in the matter of the vessel." Then he went on speaking in a low voice, so rapidly that the brethren could scarcely hear and much less understand.

Sinan listened, then said:

"Let the fated enter and make his own report, bringing with him his prisoners."

Now one of the dais, he who sat nearest the canopy, rose and, pointing toward the brethren, said:

"Touching these Franks, what is your will?"

The beady eyes, which seemed to search out their souls, fixed themselves upon them, and for a long while Sinan considered.

"Let them stay here," he said at length. "I may have questions to ask them."

For a time there was silence. So intense was the silence, so dreadful, seemed that lightning, snake-like man, so strange his aged, snakelike man, so strange his place of council, surrounded by a dizzy glow, that fear took hold of the brethren like the fear of an evil dream. "At length there was a stir behind them, and at a word from Masouda they separated, falling apart a pace or two, and stood opposite each other and sideways to Sinan. Standing thus, they saw the curtains drawn. Through them came four men, carrying a stretcher covered with a cloth, beneath which they could see the outline of a form that lay there stiffly. The four men brought the stretcher to the front of the canopy, set it on the ground, prostrated themselves and retired, walking backward down the length of the terrace.

Again there was silence, while the brethren wondered whose corpse it was that lay beneath the cloth, for a corpse it must surely be, though neither the lord of the mountain nor his dais and guards seemed to concern themselves in the matter. Again the curtains parted, and a procession advanced up the terrace. First came a great man clad in a white robe blazoned with the bleeding dagger, after whom walked a tall woman shrouded in a long veil, who was followed by a thickset knight clad in Frankish armor and wearing a cap of which the cowl covered his head as though to keep the rays of the sun from beating on his helmet. Lastly walked four guards. The leader of the little band reached the space before the canopy and, prostrating himself by the side of the stretcher, lay still. She who walked behind him, stopped also, and, seeing the black heap upon the cushion, shuddered.

"Woman, unveil," commanded the voice of Sinan.

She hesitated, then swiftly undid some fastenings, so that her drapery fell from her head. The brethren stared, rubbed their eyes and stared again.

Before them stood Rosamund!

Yes, it was Rosamund, worn with sickness, terrors and travel, Rosamund herself beyond all doubt. At the sight of her pale, queenly beauty the heap on the cushion stirred, beneath his black cloak, and the beady eyes were filled with an evil, eager light. Even the dais seemed to wake from their contemplation, and Masouda bit her red lip, turned pale beneath her olive skin and watched with devouring eyes, waiting to read this woman's heart.

"Rosamund!" cried the brethren with one voice.

She heard. As they sprang toward her she glanced wildly from face to face, then with a low cry flung an arm about the neck of each and would have fallen in the ecstasy of her joy had they not held her. Indeed, her knees touched the ground. As they stooped to lift her it flashed into Godwin's mind that Masouda had told Sinan that they were her brethren. The thought was followed by another. If this were so, they might be left with her, whereas otherwise that black robed devil—

"Listen," he whispered in English, "we are not your cousins—we are your

RAILROADS FAVOR LARGE COMPANIES

CAR DISTRIBUTOR TELLS HOW CARS ARE ASSIGNED.

SMALL CONCERNS SUFFER

Philadelphia, May 16.—Testimony tending to show favoritism by railroad companies in the distribution of coal cars was elicited Tuesday when the Interstate Commerce commission resumed its investigation into the alleged railroad discrimination.

Shortly before the close of the afternoon session George W. Clark, a car distributor employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Altoona, Pa., admitted that he had received orders to make special assignments of cars to the Perwind-White Coal company, and that frequently these assignments were made previous to the regular percentage distribution. Mr. Clark admitted that special allotments had at times to a certain extent interfered with an equitable distribution of cars.

How Cars Are Distributed.

Arthur Hale, superintendent of transportation of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was on the stand the greater part of the day. Through him it was brought out that the Merchants' Coal company and the Somerset Coal company had frequently received many cars in excess of their percentage allotment, while various smaller companies suffered a shortage. Mr. Hale explained that the shortage shown on the records did not indicate that the companies could not handle their full complement of cars.

An interesting point in Superintendent Hale's testimony was the fact that the Baltimore & Ohio company had made frequent changes in the percentage basis. Counsel for the commission called attention to the fact that these changes were made at times when certain companies had received cars far in excess of their percentage allotment.

Mr. Hale said that these excesses and shortages were not evened up when the new percentages were adopted.

Companies Are Favored.

Chairman Knapp asked Mr. Hale how long the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company had been distributing cars on the percentage basis.

"From September 15, 1905, to March 29, 1906,"

"How many cars in excess of its percentage did the Merchants' company receive?"

"I should say about 600, and I think I should have been justified in giving the company 700 over its percentage."

Mr. Hale said there were many cases where smaller companies were entitled to a larger percentage than they received, but that they were unable to fill the cars. In cases of this kind Mr. Hale said that he adhered strictly to the percentage basis, he would have restricted the output. Instead, he gave more cars where they could be promptly filled and emptied.

Where complaints were made of car shortage, Mr. Hale said, he endeavored to remedy the deficiency at once, but when there was no complaint there was no immediate effort to even up the percentages.

CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON

HUMILIATING—VILE—DESTRUCTIVE

The very name, Contagious Blood Poison, suggests contamination and dread. It is the worst disease the world has ever known; responsible for more unhappiness and sorrow than all others combined. Nobody knows anything about the origin of this loathsome trouble, but as far back as history goes it has been regarded the greatest curse of mankind.

No part of the body is beyond the reach of this powerful poison. No matter how pure the blood may be, when the virus of Contagious Blood Poison enters, the entire circulation becomes corrupted; the humiliating symptoms begin to appear, and the sufferer finds himself diseased from head to foot with the vilest and most destructive of all poisons. Usually the first symptom is a small sore or ulcer, so insignificant that it rarely ever excites suspicion, but in a short while the skin breaks out in a red rash, the glands of the groin swell, the throat and mouth ulcerate, the hair and eye-brows come out, and often the body is covered with copper-colored spots, pustular eruptions and sores.

There is hardly any limit to the ravages of Contagious Blood Poison; if it is not driven from the blood it affects the nerves, attacks the bones, and in extreme cases causes tumors to form on the brain, producing insanity and death. No other disease is so highly contagious; many an innocent person has become infected by using the same toilet articles, handling the clothing, by a friendly handshake or the kiss of affection from one afflicted. But no matter how the disease is contracted, the sufferer feels the humiliation and degradation that accompany the vile disorder.

Mercury and Potash are commonly used in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, but these minerals cannot cure the disease—they merely mask it in the system. All external evidences may disappear for awhile, but the treacherous poison is at work on the internal members and tissues, and when these minerals are left off the disease returns worse than before, because the entire system has been weakened and damaged by the strong action of the Mercury and Potash. There is but one certain, reliable cure for Contagious Blood Poison, and that is S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier. It attacks the disease in the right way by going down into the blood, neutralizing and forcing out every particle of the poison. It makes the blood pure and rich, strengthens the different parts of the body, tones up the system, and cures this humiliating and destructive disorder permanently.

The improvement commences as soon as the patient gets under the influence of S. S. S. and continues until every vestige of the poison is driven from the blood and the sufferer is completely restored to health. S. S. S. is not an experiment; it is a success. It has cured thousands of cases of Contagious Blood Poison, many of which had given the Mercury and Potash treatment, Hot Springs, etc., a thorough trial, and had almost despaired of ever being well again. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and does not injure the system in the least. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. If you are suffering with this despicable and debasing disease, get it out of your blood with S. S. S. before it does further damage. We will gladly send our book with instructions for self-treatment and any medical advice, without charge, to all who write.

DENIES ALDRICH SOUGHT ALLIANCE

MR. TILLMAN SAYS NEWSPAPER STORY IS INCORRECT.

DID NOT SEEK PRESIDENT

Charging Executive Was Guilty of Bad Faith, South Carolinian Declares He Made No Effort to Secure Interview.

Washington, May 16.—With the exception of the anti-pass amendment the senate Tuesday concluded its consideration of the railroad rate bill as in committee of the whole and as soon as that provision shall be disposed of will take it up in the senate.

The pass question was brought to life again through the instrumentality of a motion made by Senator Culberson, author of the original provision, to reconsider the vote by which it was adopted, which was agreed to. A number of suggestions in the way of substitutes were presented and those will have to be dealt with before the bill can be reported to the senate.
After it is reported, several questions will be reopened.

The greater part of the day was spent in discussing the eighth section of the bill relating to the personnel of the interstate-commerce commission, resulting in the elimination of the entire section and the restoration of the present law which provides for five commissioners at salaries of $7,500.

Mr. Tillman Explains.
During the day Senator Tillman made a further explanation concerning his negotiations with the president and had former Senator Chandler's memorandum read. The president's letter to Senator Allison was also read at the instance of the Iowa senator.
The session opened with a personal statement by Mr. Tillman concerning his relations with Mr. Aldrich.

He called attention to an article printed in a Washington paper Monday, the purport of which was that the South Carolina senator had said that Senator Aldrich had sought to make an alliance with him rather than with the president.

Senator Tillman said: "It is not my habit to give out for publication private conversations with other senators, but I talk very freely with newspaper men. In this statement there are errors of fact and of statement and I desire to say that I never gave out any such statement."

Mr. Tillman's Statement.

Mr. Tillman said: "There are only two points in the president's letter which I deem worthy of notice. His attempted explanation is ingenious, but not ingenious. He calls in question the integrity of purpose and utterance of Mr. Chandler by declaring:
"He was asked to see ex-Senator Chandler as representing Mr. Tillman, who was in charge of the bill. He stated to me the views of Mr. Tillman with seeming authority."

"Mr. Chandler has declared most positively in a written statement that the president sent for him for the purpose of getting into communication with Senator Bailey and myself and he has produced the letter of Mr. Loeb."

"I now declare most emphatically that to no human being have I ever given authority or even expressed a wish to have any conference with Theodore Roosevelt in regard to the bill now under consideration. On the contrary, I have expressed the opinion in more than one public interview that he had nothing to do with it and that it was the business of the senate, and while I did, at his request, enter into negotiations with the attorney general it is well known to every senator on this floor what my attitude and feelings have been and it is most remarkable while the president sent for Democrat after Democrat to confer with him about this measure that he should undertake under the circumstances to assert that I sent an agent to him to begin negotiations.
The statement is absurd on its face.
"The other point to which I shall refer is the cavalier way in which Mr.
Moody discusses the idea of the president not being bound."

"While contradiction in no instance however slight, my statement of what occurred the attorney general seems to think that the code of honor among gentlemen is not binding upon the executive and his cabinet."

Claims Absolute Agreement.

"The president asked him to see Mr.
Bailey and myself. We met by appointment made by Senator Chandler and talked over the vital question. He wrote and sent to Mr. Bailey his understanding of our views and when we met subsequently we reached an absolute agreement, both as to the form and the substance of a proposed amendment to which he said the president would assent and help get votes for."

"Of course, the president was not bound not to change, but he was bound under such circumstances to give notice and this was not done.
Even the attorney-general himself was not notified. The charge I made and still make, is that the president is guilty of bad faith and that the rate bill which will be, when enacted into law, a much better and stronger measure than we had hoped to get has been emasculated of one of its most valuable and essential features by the president's action."

"I am ready to leave the whole question to the thoughtful and honorable men of the country."

Professor Ralph Noel of Winamac high school and Miss Minnie Hodgson, deputy postmaster of that city, leaving a club dance at midnight went straight to the Methodist parsonage and were married.
